

The Journey

I am on my way away from you.

I will be gone until the birth of spring and then I will be able to look upon your beautiful face.

*My love will remain
and you will know its presence.*

I love you so very much.

My thoughts will be with you as I go on this sad journey.

As my journey nears its end and I come back to you, my heart will swell with love and everyone will see.

Just how much I love you and need your love.

*Goodbye for now
Until the birth of Spring.*

The Telephone

As I ponder on love and life, I wait for the moment of joy when you call me from afar.

I wait for your words of love, for they are the fiber of my inner being.

I long to call you but I know I must not.

You belong to another and I to myself.

*I love you and wait
with thoughts of your love.*

Oh, telephone, please ring and let it be my love.

Oh, please ring!
